DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-6, 8-9 and 18-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by anticipated by Simpson et al. (Simpson) (US 6,453,129).

The applied reference has a common Assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Art Unit: 2622

With regard to claims 1 and 18, Simpson discloses a method, implemented on a client computing device (computer 704), the method comprising: displaying a web page representing a printer to a user, the web page including a user-selectable option to enable private printing on the printer; receiving a user selection of the option to enable private printing; and communicating the user selection to the printer (col 9, lines 14-39).

With regards to claims 2 and 19, Simpson discloses wherein receiving the user selection comprises receiving the user selection of the option to enable private printing in the absence of a printer driver, on the client computing device, that supports private printing (col 9, lines 14-49).

With regard to claim 3 Simpson discloses, wherein communicating comprises communicating the user selection to a proxy server that represents the printer (col 3, line 57 – col 4, line 3).

With regards to claims 4 and 20, Simpson discloses wherein receiving the user selection comprises receiving user-input of a personal identification number (PIN) that is to be subsequently entered at the printer in order to print a document, requested by the user, at the printer (col 4 ,lines 58-68).

With regard to claim 5, Simpson discloses wherein the PIN corresponds to a single print request (col 5, lines 1-8).

With regard to claim 6, Simpson discloses wherein the PIN corresponds to a single user and multiple print requests for the single user (col 5, lines 1-8).

With regard to claims 8 and 21, Simpson discloses further comprising:

automatically identifying a user identity of the user; and communicating the user identity to the printer (col 5, lines 41-49).

With regard to claim 9, Simpson discloses wherein the receiving comprises receiving the user selection prior to receiving a print request to be communicated to the printer (col 5, lines 41-49).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 10-17 and 22-27 allowed.

4. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
